

6. Plan Your Trip

A well-planned trip makes for an enjoyable and safe ride. Contact the land manager of your destination before you go; ensure that the OHV area is open and check on trail and weather conditions.

Dress in layers to prepare for changing weather. Wear appropriate protective gear.

Reserve a campsite in advance if you are going on an extended trip.

Ride with someone; never go alone.

Always let someone know where you are going, and when you plan on returning. Consider leaving a map of the riding area with that person. If you need help, they will know where to look.

Know the rules of the OHV area before you go.

Make sure your machine is not too loud for the area and that you have the proper equipment installed.

Keep your machine in good shape. Always inspect your machine before each trip to ensure it is in good mechanical shape.

Carry the basics with you on the trail, including:

- Water and snacks
- Basic tools to make on-the-trail repair
- Basic first aid kit
- Extra spark plugs
- A tow strap
- Waterproof matches or lighter
- Tire repair kit
- A cell phone, CB or two-way radio
- Duct tape
- Knife
- Emergency blanket
- Map of riding area, compass or GPS unit

Riding in the Dunes

Sand Hazards

Be aware of:

- Razorbacks—quick drop offs created by wind—are everywhere in the dunes and hard to see.
- Susceptibility to poor depth perception. The sand colors blend together making it difficult to judge distance and contours.
- Steep drop offs or other riders, especially before driving over the crest of a dune.
- Downed trees, lakes, streams, soft and saturated sand.

Flags

Red or blaze orange flags are required on all vehicles within the Oregon Dunes National Recreation Area (ODNRA) and Sand Lake Recreation Area. They must measure 8" by 12" and be displayed 9 feet above the ground on all ATVs.

Sound

Residential areas surround the ODNRA and Sand Lake Recreation Area. Sound buffers help reduce noise. U.S. Forest Service (USFS) personnel are equipped to provide sound checks. Call ahead or request a test before riding. Some OHV dealers also have sound testing equipment.

Jumping

Always have a spotter at the top of the dune to make sure the area is clear of other riders and vehicles.

Alcohol Ban

Alcohol and ATVs don't mix. Accidents and injuries, unsafe environments, and resource damage has led to an alcohol ban in the ODRNA and Sand Lake Recreation Area outside developed sites (36 CFR 260.50 and CFR 260.58). For more information, contact the USFS at (541) 271-3611.

ATV Funds help develop new resources for OHV users in the dunes. ATV Funds helped pay for the Horsfall and Bull Run Staging Area, pictured.

ATVs on Forest Trails

Wildfires

Many ATV areas close their trails in the summer, due to high fire danger. Most ATV areas require USFS-approved spark arresters on ATVs to reduce the chance of starting a wildfire.

Protecting Resources

Riding off designated trails can damage sensitive areas, often forcing agencies to spend more time closing illegally created trails and less time maintaining or creating new, designated trails.

Logging and Construction

Both are common in Oregon. Check before you go.

Trail Signs

Learn how to read trail signs to determine the difficulty of a trail and the types of ATVs allowed.

Forest Roads

Forest roads are typically open to ATVs. Check road conditions, and remember that many forest roads are open to two-way traffic. Keep low speeds and watch for other vehicles. It could be a log truck or another ATV—you never know.

Keep Your Lights On

The forest canopy creates shady areas that make it hard for others to see you coming. Keep your lights on for safety!

Bright Clothing

Wear bright clothing, especially during hunting season.

Hunting Season

Find out if hunting is allowed where you ride.

ATVs in the High Desert

Fragile Ecosystem

The high desert is a fragile ecosystem. Please ride ATVs on designated trails and road systems only.

Sound Carries

In the high desert, natural sound buffers such as hills and valleys are few and far between. Keep muffler and exhaust systems in good working order, and at or below the state's recommended decibel levels.

Fences and Cattle

Do not cut fences. Respect the rights of property owners. Most central and eastern Oregon public lands are open to cattle grazing. Look out for cattle and slow down when nearing them. It is against the law to chase or harass livestock, game animals or any other wildlife.

Wildfires

Many ATV areas close their trails in the summer, due to high fire danger. Most ATV areas require USFS approved spark arresters on ATVs to reduce the chance of starting a wildfire.

Weeds

Weeds are non-native plants that displace natural vegetation. Weeds can increase soil erosion and degrade water quality.

Eradication is difficult and expensive. The best way to get rid of weeds is to prevent them from spreading!

- Stay on the established roads and trails.
- Check and wash your ATVs, pick-ups and trailers before and after a drive. Seeds can stick to tires, radiators and the undersides of vehicles.
- Clean your clothes of any weed seeds.
- Do not pick flowers or noxious weeds.
- Do not pick and transport wildflowers that you cannot identify.
- Do not camp in weed-infested areas.
- Report weed-infested sites to the land manager or the Oregon Department of Agriculture Weed Hotline: (866)-INVADER (468-2337).
