Using the State's Purchasing Power: Coordinating with PEBB and OEGB

Small Group Discussion Questions

- How does the OHPB theory of change dovetail with PEBB's, OEGB's and Medicaid's work?
- Do we need to add anything to OHPB's Triple Aim framework to be consistent with the goals of PEBB, OEGB and Medicaid?
- Do our shared goals translate into specific opportunities to work together?
- What are the obstacles and how might we overcome them?
- What are concrete next steps?

Opportunities for coordinated purchasing with PEBB, OEBC and Medicaid

1. Payment
  - a. Standardizing inpatient payments to Medicare methodology
  - b. Stop paying for errors (e.g., HAI, hospital readmissions, potentially avoidable complications)
  - c. Implementing enhanced payment systems for patient-centered health homes
  - d. Introducing innovative payment methodologies (e.g., p4p, bundled payments)
2. Increasing enrollment in patient centered health homes
3. Reducing administrative costs (e.g., uniform companion guides, uniform prior authorization)
4. Implementing value-based benefit designs
5. Implementing health information exchange
6. Decreasing obesity and tobacco use
7. Sharing, adopting, developing clinical guidelines
8. Developing Triple Aim metrics

Our Theory of Change

Health care delivery and public health systems should provide the outcomes we want at a price we can afford. We must align our reform efforts across the entire health spectrum around the Triple Aim. This will require participation and new accountability from all Oregonians, providers, insurers, governments, employers, and communities. It will also mean developing new partnerships with agencies and organizations not typically thought of in relation to health – such as the Department of Education, the Department of Agriculture, and the Oregon Liquor Control Commission – to combat population health issues of obesity, tobacco, and alcohol abuse.

Improve the lifelong health
of all Oregonians.

Oregon Health Authority

Increase the quality, reliability and availability of care for all Oregonians.

Lower or contain the cost of care so it is affordable for everyone.
