

School-Based Health Services and transportation services

DMAP may reimburse transportation services when:

- The child is Medicaid eligible and requires specialized transportation adapted to serve the needs of the disabled child;
- Transportation service is documented in the child’s IEP or IFSP and there is documentation to support specialized transportation is “necessary and appropriate”;
- Transportation is only reimbursed on days when the child also receives a Medicaid covered health service other than transportation on that day and the Medicaid covered service is also specified on the child’s IEP or IFSP.

DMAP will not cover transportation services provided by the parent or relative of the child.

If deemed medically necessary and listed on the child’s IEP or IFSP, the following also apply:

Transport to and from school	Covered when the transportation provided is adapted to serve the needs of the disabled child pursuant to 42 CFR 440.170 (a)(1); or when a child resides in an area that does not have school bus service (such as those areas in close proximity to a school).
Transport to an off-site facility or provider	Covered for transport between the off-site location and school. Transport between home and school is not covered.
Transport assistance	Assistance by a delegated health care aide is covered. See the standards for delegation of a Nursing Care Task as outlined in the Nurse Practice Act, Division 47, OAR 851-047-000. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • On a regular school bus, only the service provided by the delegated health care aide is covered. • On transportation adapted to serve the needs of the disabled student, both the transport and service provided by the delegated health care aide is covered. Other forms of transport assistance cannot be billed separately (they are included in the cost of transportation).
