Some businesses lose half hour of alcohol sales when DST begins

PORTLAND, Ore. – Oregonians will officially move their clocks forward one hour at 2:00 a.m. Sunday, March 8 as Daylight Saving Time begins. As a result, some nightclubs, bars, taverns and other licensed premises that serve alcohol until 2:30 a.m. will lose a half hour of alcohol sales.

These licensees will get the half hour back plus an additional 30 minutes in November when Daylight Saving Time ends.

According to the Oregon Liquor Control Commission, liquor licensees must stop the sale, service and consumption of alcohol when 2:00 a.m. becomes 3:00 a.m.
