Kim Davis named OLCC Director of Financial Services

PORTLAND, Ore. – Kim Davis has been appointed as the Director of Financial Services for the Oregon Liquor Control Commission. Davis begins her new position August 17, 2015.

Davis comes to the OLCC with 20 years experience in the financial field, most recently in the investment banking and securities industry, where she has been the Vice President of Finance since 2006.

Her prior experience includes External Reporting Manager at Mentor Graphics Corporation in Wilsonville, Senior Accounting Manager at LNR Property Corporation in Portland, and SEC Accounting Manager at National Retail Properties in Orlando.

“I am confident that Kim’s business experience and leadership skills are well suited to fit OLCC’s needs to maintain Oregon’s $1 billion distilled spirits industry and establishing the new recreational marijuana industry,” said Steven Marks, OLCC Executive Director.

Davis is a Certified Public Accountant and holds a Bachelors of Science degree in Accounting from Florida Southern College and a Bachelors of Arts degree in Business Administration from Saint Leo University.
