Automatic Interpol Returns

Agencies with NCIC access will now get three returns for wanted person queries identifying if there is an Interpol record

Starting February 24, 2014 at 12:00 pm Pacific Standard Time, the LEDS and NCIC Wanted Persons queries sent from agencies with NCIC access, specifically the Q, QW, QDW, QWH, and QWHD message keys, will automatically forward to Interpol via NLETS. An NLETS return will accompany the LEDS and NCIC returns, the automatic NLETS Interpol response will only indicate whether the subject has an Interpol record, and if so, their unique Interpol Identification Number. This number may be queried via the appropriate message keys in order to view the entire Interpol file. For more information on Interpol queries, see FPQ transaction description in Chapter 25.4.1.3.1 of the LEDS manual. Please note querying the full record via Interpol transaction will notify the entering agency that the record has been requested by your agency. Non-NCIC agencies will see no difference in returns.

Possible Interpol Matches:
Subject: PERSON FOUR TEST
DOB: 1941-08-02

Sample Interpol Responses:

An Interpol record DOES exist on the queried subject.

This NLETS return indicated that the subject queried DOES have an Interpol record. The ID number listed in the return may be entered into an Interpol "Full Record" Query (FPQ) to view the entire record/file. (For more information on this process, see Chapter 25.4.1.3.1 of the LEDS manual). If the agency queries the full Interpol file, the system automatically notifies the Interpol record's country of origin when the Interpol file is queried – there is no way to block the notification.
